

BUILDING BLOCKS

Keys to Success for Directors

A bank's success often is attributed to the effectiveness of its directors and management. Through knowledge and readiness, the board can respond to rapid changes in the financial industry and, with confidence, ask questions of management, auditors, and examiners. Experienced and new directors will leave this 3-hour virtual workshop better prepared to successfully fulfill their duties and responsibilities.

Work with and learn from experienced OCC examiners who lead this 3-hour virtual workshop, designed for directors of national community banks and federal savings associations.

TOPICS COVERED

- ⇒ Learn about key and current issues impacting bank supervision.
- ⇒ Enhance understanding of board responsibilities, duties, and governance.
- ⇒ Learn about the tools senior management needs to provide information to the board.
- ⇒ Increase familiarity with strategic planning and enterprise risk management.

DON'T DELAY. REGISTER TODAY!

For complete information and to register, go to www.occ.gov/occworkshops